- CONFIDENTIAL REPORTING ............................................................... 23
The Illinois College of Optometry is committed to maintaining an environment that is secure and safe. This report is produced in compliance with The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act) which mandates all Colleges and Universities compile policy and statistical information related to security and safety at the College. In cases where the College has a residential complex, such as ICO, it also requires publication of an annual fire safety report.

ICO CAMPUS CLERY GEOGRAPHY

Our campus includes the Residential Complex (3240 S Indiana), the main College facility at 3241 S Indiana, and the Illinois Eye Institute at 3240 S Michigan Avenue and the access controlled Parking Garage which serves our students, faculty and staff. At least two officers, and up to 6 officers, are on duty at all times. They monitor the campus by various means: active patrol; surveillance of 70 strategically placed CCTV’s; a two-way radio system; an "intercom" system connected to Security from the enclosed parking garage, the main entrance, the loading dock, and the street to the Residential Complex entrance. In addition, electronic emergency alarms are located on campus and all in-house public telephones have the extension number of the Security Office prominently displayed.

CRIME PREVENTION

CAMPUS ACCESS
Access to the campus is limited to those individuals with ID Cards. Visitors, guests, etc., are issued temporary ID cards, which must be displayed and surrendered on leaving. If you arrive at the campus and are unable to display your ID you should report to the Security Office and sign in to be issued a temporary ID. The Student Guide contains procedures for replacing a lost ID. Members of the ICO community are reminded to report any unknown individual who is not identified with an ICO ID card to Campus Security immediately.

Public access to the campus is restricted to two controlled entrances: the main college entrance (Indiana Avenue) and the entrance to the Illinois Eye Institute (Michigan Avenue). All patients are issued a sticker ID upon registration. Additional entrances for students and staff include doors from the enclosed parking garage and the street to Residential Complex entrance. Non-public access is gained with keys, with computer controlled card-keys, or direct admittance by security officers. Keys and card-keys are issued to authorize persons only.

Access to the ICO Residential Complex is with secured ID card keys issued to residents and authorized personnel. The Head Resident Assistant is supervised by the Office of Student Affairs, but also maintains close contact with the Security Office.

MAINTENANCE AND SECURITY OF CAMPUS FACILITIES
ICO is highly committed to the safety of our campus community. Our Facilities personnel work closely with Campus Security to ensure that external lighting is in good repair. The grounds are maintained to ensure that landscaping shrubbery and trees do not provide concealment. Outside of normal business hours, access to the facility requires key card access.

The Residential Complex has 24 hour staffing. RA’s are part-time student employees that report to Student Affairs. The Head RA is assisted by floor RA’s and is the primary contact for students living in the Residential Complex. RA’s respond to issues that may arise, work to resolve conflict, and respond to any emergencies. In addition, ICO maintains 24 hour on-campus security staff to ensure safety and respond to emergencies that may occur outside of typical office hours.

ICO has a Dodge white 7 passenger van for student transport from campus to local public transit and home locations close to campus. It operates from dusk to midnight seven days a week. To hail the van, a student must let a Security staff member know at the Indiana Entrance, or if possible, call Security in advance at 312-949-7633.

Shuttle Service Boundaries - These boundaries will include the transportation hubs of the Red, Green, Orange, and Blue lines, and Metra station at 35th and LaSalle.

TRANSIT AND COMMUNITY SAFETY
ICO provides periodic security and safety tips to our campus community on an ongoing basis. Members of the ICO community are reminded to follow practical safety tips when utilizing public transportation including staying awake and aware of your surroundings, using caution when using electronic devices that may distract you from noticing safety hazards, and to always report suspicious activity to proper authorities.

Students living off-campus are reminded to follow normal safety procedures including making sure that doors and windows are locked. Cars should not be left unattended with windows opened and/or doors unlocked. Valuables should be secured in the trunk of vehicles and not left in plain sight.
ICO seeks to create an environment where the greatest academic potential of students and professional potential of employees can be reached. Toward that end, ICO values a community atmosphere that is free from all forms of discrimination and harassment, and will endeavor to prevent discrimination based on race, color, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, age, disability or military service. ICO prohibits conduct which prevents free academic interaction and opportunities or which creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive study or work environment.

Sexual harassment and racial harassment have been held to constitute a form of discrimination that is prohibited by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, and Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1977. Other types of harassment or discrimination (age, religious, national origin, disability or other protected status) are prohibited by applicable state and federal law.

Illinois College of Optometry is committed to maintaining a safe and healthy educational and employment environment that is free from discrimination, harassment and misconduct on the basis of sex, which includes sexual orientation and gender-related identity and expression. It is the policy of the College that no employee, student or other members of the College community shall be subject to sexual discrimination, harassment or misconduct. This Policy applies to students, employees, appointees, or third-parties, whenever the misconduct occurs:

1. On College property;
2. Off College property if:
   A. The conduct was in connection with a College or College-recognized program or activity; or
   B. The conduct may have the effect of creating a hostile environment for a member of the College community.

The College designates our Title IX Coordinator and team to ensure adherence to the policy and promote a respectful College environment free of sexual discrimination, harassment and misconduct.

Any form of retaliation, including intimidation, threats, harassment and other adverse action taken or threatened against any complainant or person reporting or filing a complaint alleging sexual discrimination, harassment or misconduct or any person cooperating in the investigation of such allegations (including testifying, assisting or participating in any manner in an investigation) is strictly prohibited. No one will be subject to retaliation for bringing good faith concerns to our attention or for assisting in an investigation, even when coming forward identifies the reporter of having been at an event where College policies governing alcohol or drug use may have been violated.

ICO (under the oversight of the Title IX Coordinator) will maintain and publish procedures implementing this policy on the College’s publicly available Campus Conduct website, as well as in other formats useful to a variety of College audiences. These sources contain information that includes but is not limited to:

- Definitions of prohibited conduct;
- Responsibilities of and contact information for ICO’s Title IX Coordinators;
- Options for assistance following an incident of sexual discrimination, harassment and/or misconduct;
- Procedures for reporting and confidentially disclosing sexual discrimination, harassment and/or misconduct;
- Complaint investigation, resolution, and appeal procedures;
- Prevention and education programming provided to College students;
- Training and education provided to employees, including the Title IX Coordinator, Department of Human Resources, Campus Security, responsible employees, and anyone involved in responding to, investigating or adjudicating sexual discrimination, harassment and misconduct incidents; and
- Any other relevant information as required by federal and state law.

Comprehensive information about the College’s disciplinary procedures can be found in the Student Guide and in the Employee Handbook, both of which can be found online on my.ico.edu. ICO maintains a compliance program, including a reporting mechanism as one way of communicating to employees and external parties that we are committed to compliance with all applicable laws, standards and regulations. A compliance program is also a way of organizing policies and compliance information in order to facilitate the understanding of what can sometimes be overwhelming and confusing information. The Compliance Office maintains a confidential message line at 312-949-7225 that can be utilized to report any compliance related concerns or matters. This line provides allows for confidential and anonymous reporting and does not track caller id information.

There may also be behaviors (such as an isolated inappropriate comment) that are offensive or cause discomfort but do not constitute a policy violation or warrant disciplinary action by the College; In these situations, the College can still provide supportive resources and avenues for feedback and education.

THE TITLE IX TEAM
ICO has designated the following individuals as part of the Title IX Team.

- Title IX Coordinator: Beth Karmis, Sr. Director for Student Development, 312-949-7415, Room 2721

PROHIBITED BEHAVIOR
ICO prohibits all forms of gender-based and sexual misconduct (including sexual harassment) which unreasonably interfere with, deny, or limit someone’s ability to participate in or benefit from an ICO educational program, activity, or employment. This policy applies to behavior exhibited by students, employees, visitors, and any other person affecting the campus community. Violations of the policy may occur between individuals or groups of individuals of any sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, gender, or sex. Where “gender/sex” is used below, the term is intended to be reflective of actual or perceived gender identity, gender expression, gender, sexual orientation, and/or sex. Prohibited behaviors are defined as:

a. Sexual harassment: Unwelcome, verbal or physical conduct based on gender/sex that is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive that it unreasonably interferes with, denies, or limits someone’s ability to participate in or benefit from an ICO educational program or activity. This includes:
   - Hostile Environment: one or more behaviors that create an intimidating educational or employment environment,
   - Discrimination: Actions taken by a person in a position of authority at the College that deprive others of access, benefits, or opportunities based on irrelevant protected criteria.

b. Non-Consensual Sexual Contact: Any intentional sexual touching, however slight and with any object or body part, that is without consent and/or by force or coercion. This includes intentional contact with breasts, buttocks, groin, mouth, or genitals, as well as any other intentional bodily contact that occurs in a sexual manner.

c. Non-Consensual Sexual Intercourse: Any sexual penetration or copulation, however slight and with any object or body part that is without consent and/or by force or coercion. Intercourse includes anal or vaginal penetration by a penis, object, tongue, or finger, and oral copulation (mouth and genital/anal contact), no matter how slight the penetration or contact.

d. Sexual Exploitation: Taking non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of an individual to benefit anyone other than the person being exploited. Examples include: invading privacy, video or audio recording of sexual acts without consent, knowingly transmitting a Sexually Transmitted Infection (STI), sexually-based stalking or bullying, or exposing one’s genitals.

e. Intimate Relationship Violence: violence or the threat of violence between those in a sexual and/or comparably personal and private relationship, including:
• Domestic Violence: violence committed by someone’s current or former spouse or intimate partner (including an intimate cohabitant), current or former cohabitant, or another such person protected under domestic or family law, such as someone with whom the victim shares a child.

• Dating Violence: violence by a person who has been in social relationship of a romantic or intimate relationship with the victim. A “relationship” is determined by the reporting party’s statement with consideration of the length, type, and frequency of interaction.

f. Stalking: two or more acts directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person under similar circumstances and with similar identities to fear for her, his, or others’ safety, or to suffer substantial emotional distress. Examples include: repetitive and/or menacing pursuit, following, harassment, or other interference with the peace and/or safety of another person or that of his or her immediate family members.

g. Other Gender-Based Misconduct: Physical harm, extreme verbal abuse, or other conduct that threatens the health or safety of any person on the basis gender/sex. This includes hazing and bullying, as defined in the Student Guide.

(This information and the campus policy are adapted from the ATIXA Gender-Based and Sexual Misconduct Policy by the National Center for Higher Education Risk Management (NCHERM) and the Association of Title IX Administrators (ATIXA), 2011).

h. ICO prohibits discrimination and/or harassment of any student, employee, patient or third-party on the basis of race, religion, nationality, socio-economic status, country of origin, disability, gender or gender identity, or under any other circumstance.

WHAT IS CONSENT?

Consent is defined as permission to act. It may be given by words or actions, so long as those words or actions create clear, mutually understood permission to engage in (and express the conditions of) sexual activity. Consent may be withdrawn at any time. Consent must meet all of the following standards:

• Active, not passive. Silence, in and of itself, cannot be interpreted as consent. There is no requirement that an individual resist a sexual act or advance, but resistance is a clear demonstration of non-consent. In addition, what a person is wearing does not constitute consent.

• Given freely. A person cannot give consent under force, threats, or unreasonable pressure (coercion). Coercion includes continued pressure after an individual has made it clear that he/she does not want to engage in the behavior.

• Provided knowingly. A person must be able to understand the nature of the activity and give consent without limitation. As a result, consent to sexual activity cannot be given by:
  – A person under the legal age to consent (17 years old in Illinois), or – An individual who is known to be (or based on the circumstances should reasonably be known to be) mentally or physically incapacitated. An incapacitated individual is someone who cannot make rational, reasonable decisions because he or she lacks the capacity to understand the “who, what, when, where, why, or how” of a sexual interaction. This includes a person whose incapacity results from mental disability, sleep, involuntary physical restraint, unconsciousness, use of alcohol or other drugs.

• Specific. Permission to engage in one form of sexual activity does not imply permission for another activity. Previous relationships or prior consent do not imply consent to future sexual acts. Consent to an act with one person does not mean consent applies to another person. It is the responsibility of the initiator of the act to receive permission for the specific act. As a result, consent should be requested and given several times by multiple parties during a sexual encounter involving multiple acts.

(This information and the campus policy are adapted from the ATIXA Gender-Based and Sexual Misconduct Policy by the National Center for Higher Education Risk Management (NCHERM) and the Association of Title IX Administrators (ATIXA), 2011).
CRIMINAL ACTIVITY

The following legal definitions are provided to assist in understanding when behavior that violates ICO policy may also violate federal or state law. If you believe you have been a victim of a crime, please consider taking action to preserve any evidence that may be helpful to you in pursuing legal or protective action. You have the right to pursue both the criminal and the campus processes to address incidents which may violate both the law and campus policy. The campus process is not designed to be a substitute for the criminal justice process.

a. Sex Offenses, defined by the FBI as any sexual act directed against another person without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent. This includes:

- Rape: penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim.
- Fondling: the touching of the private parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her age or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental incapacity.
- Incest: Non-forcible sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law.
- Statutory Rape: Non-forcible sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

b. Domestic Violence: As defined in section 40002(a) of the Violence Against Women Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C. 13925(a)), domestic violence means a felony or misdemeanor crime of violence committed by:

- A current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim,
- A person with whom the victim shares a child in common,
- A person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner,
- A person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction receiving grant monies [under VAWA], or
- Any other person against an adult or youth victim who is protected from that person’s acts under the domestic or family violence laws of the jurisdiction.

c. Dating Violence: As defined in section 40002(a) of the Violence Against Women Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C. 13925(a)), dating violence means violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim; and where the existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on a consideration of the following factors: the length of the relationship; the type of relationship; and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship.

d. Sexual Assault, defined in the State of Illinois as “Sexual penetration by force or threat of force or an act of sexual penetration when the victim was unable to understand the nature of the act or was unable to give knowing consent.” (720 ILCS 5 Criminal Code of 1961 § 12-13) Illinois State Law defines sexual penetration as: “Any contact, however slight, between the sex organ or anus of one person by an object, the sex organ, mouth or anus of another person, or any intrusion, however slight, of any part of the body of one person or of any object into the sex organ or anus of another person, including but not limited to cunnilingus, fellatio, or anal penetration. Evidence of emission of semen is not required to prove sexual penetration.” (720 ILCS 5 Criminal Code of 1961 §12-12(f))

e. Stalking: Section 40002(a) of the Violence Against Women Act of 1994 (42 U.S.C. 13925(a)) defines stalking as: engaging in a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear for the person’s safety or the safety of others or suffer substantial emotional distress. (For the purpose of this definition, “Course of conduct” means two or more acts, including, but not limited to, acts in which the stalker directly, indirectly, or through third parties, by any action, method, device, or means follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens, or communicates to or about, a person, or interferes with a person's property. “Substantial emotional distress” means significant mental suffering or anguish that may, but does not necessarily, require medical or other professional treatment or counseling. “Reasonable person” means a reasonable person under similar circumstances and with a similar identity to the victim.

AFTER AN INCIDENT
If you have experienced any act of sexual misconduct, our first concern is for your safety and well-being. Please consider the following:

- Get to a safe place where you feel as physically and emotionally safe as possible.
- If you are not sure what to do or where to start, call the 24-hour confidential Chicago Rape Crisis hotline at 888-293-2080 or RAINN's hotline at 800-656-HOPE.
- Seek medical attention for any physical injuries, potential pregnancy, or potential sexually transmitted diseases. You can visit the health center on campus, a local emergency room, or seek off-campus medical assistance. The community resources in this Guide can assist you with finding medical care and possible financial assistance.
- If you have experienced behavior that may also be a violation of law, it is important that you consider preserving any evidence, even if you are not sure yet if want to file a formal complaint. This can help you later to prove that a criminal offense occurred, and can also help you in obtaining a civil protection order. This kind of exam can be done at a hospital and involves collecting evidence and photographs. As difficult as it may feel at the time, it is most helpful if you can get evidence collected quickly – before you eat, drink, shower, use the bathroom, etc. The locations closest to the ICO campus where you can obtain an exam like this are at Northwestern Memorial Hospital, University of Illinois Hospital, Rush Medical Center, or any hospital emergency room. If you need assistance to get to one of these centers, contact Chicago Rape Crisis Hotline at 888-293-2080.
- Contact ICO’s Title IX Coordinator at 312-949-7415, the Title IX reporting line at 312-949-7444, the ICO Compliance Line at 312-949-7225 and/or ICO Campus Security at 312-949-7633.
- If the College perceives there is an on-going threat to the campus community, a timely warning may be issued. In such a case, your name will be withheld as confidential from such a communication.
- If you would like to learn about your options for, and receive assistance in, changing academic, living, transportation, or work situations, contact the Title IX Coordinator. Examples of the kinds of things that can be done include, but are not limited to: changing to a different class section, completing a course via independent study, receiving escort service to your class or vehicle while on campus, and adjusting your work schedule. You can also learn about how to apply for a medical withdrawal, get questions answered about financial aid, and learn how to request protective measures on campus.

If a friend has experienced sexual assault or other sexual violence, keep these tips in mind:

- Listen. Be there. Do not be judgmental.
- Be patient. It will take some time for your friend to deal with what happened.
- Help empower your friend. Crimes of sexual violence (including dating violence, domestic violence, and stalking) take away a person’s power. It is important not to pressure your friend to do something he or she isn’t ready to do yet.
- Encourage your friend to report the crime to law enforcement. If there are questions about the process, you or your friend can call a hotline or get assistance from another resource.
- If your friend is interested and willing to get medical attention or report to the police, offer to accompany him/her or find safe transportation.
• Get help for yourself. You can speak with a confidential counselor and not share your friend’s name if you need help to be a support.

Please review the information pertaining to your options for support, assistance, and reporting so that you can make an informed decision based on your personal needs. Your needs may change over time, so please also know that you may choose to utilize different forms of response at different times.

If you are seeking immediate assistance in a crisis, contact the Chicago Rape Crisis Hotline through their 24-hour crisis hotline at 888-293-2080. You can visit http://www.rapevictimadvocates.org/ to learn about how RVA can assist with crisis support, medical and legal advocacy, and counseling.

ICO offers confidential psychological support for students during school days through the Senior Director for Student Development. Located in 2721, you can call 312-949-7415 to schedule an appointment.

Orders of Protection
The following information explains how to pursue protective acts whose jurisdiction extends beyond the campus. To obtain one of the orders below, contact the courthouse for the area in which you live. If you would like assistance, or if you have other questions about civil orders of protection or no contact orders, please contact Campus Security at 312-949-7633 or your local police department.

Civil Orders of Protection
This is a court order that is designed to stop violent and harassing behavior and to protect you and your family from the abuser. They offer civil legal protection from domestic violence to both male and female victims, as well as minors. A civil order of protection can only be filed against certain persons with whom the petitioner has a special relationship with: people who are married or formerly married, people who are related by blood, people who live together or formerly lived together, people who are dating or formerly dated, people who are engaged or formerly engaged, and people with disabilities against their caregivers. There are three types of orders: Emergency and Interim Orders of Protection provide temporary, short-term protection. A Plenary Order of Protection offers longer term protection.

Emergency Orders: An emergency order can be obtained based solely on your testimony to a judge. The abuser does not need to be present. The judge must be convinced that you are in immediate danger, or experiencing emotional distress, or else the judge may not grant the order. The emergency order will last until you can have a full hearing for a plenary order, usually within 14-21 days.

Interim Orders: An interim order offers you a bit more protection than an emergency order. You do not need to have a full court hearing to be granted an interim order. They are often used to protect you in between the time when your emergency order expires and your full court hearing takes place. However, your abuser or his/her lawyer must have made an initial appearance before the court OR the abuser must have been notified of the date of your court hearing, before you can be given an interim order. An interim order lasts for up to 30 days.

Plenary Orders: A plenary order of protection can be issued only after a court hearing in which you and the abuser both have a chance to tell your sides of the story. It provides the most protection and the longest-term protection. A plenary order may last up to two years, and there is no limit on the number of times an order of protection can be renewed.
No Contact Orders

If you do not have a relationship with the offender, you may seek to obtain a “no contact order.”

A Civil No Contact Order (CNCO) is a civil “stay away” order for crime victims who do not have a relationship with the offender. Under a CNCO, the court orders the offender not to have any contact with the victim. A CNCO may last up to two years.

A Stalking No Contact Order (SNCO) is a civil “stay away” order for victims of stalking who do not have a relationship with the offender. Under a SNCO, the court orders the offender not to have any contact with the victim. A SNCO may last up to two years.

Any violation of the above orders is a criminal offense and a Class A misdemeanor (up to one year in jail) and a 2nd offense or subsequent violation is a Class 4 felony (one to three years in jail and possible fines).

INTERIM CAMPUS ACTION

Interim Action

Interim action can be imposed on campus while an investigation is occurring. Forms of interim action can vary from a campus no-contact order, reassigning an individual to a different course, adjusting a work schedule, limiting access on campus, and interim suspension or ban from campus. Interim action that maximizes the ability for all parties involved to continue their education/work on campus, while minimizing adverse effects will be sought. Many forms of interim action can be utilized even if you do not want to seek disciplinary action against a person. For more information, contact the College’s Title IX Coordinator.

Campus No-Contact Orders

A campus no-contact order is a directive issued by a campus authority that prevents contact between persons or from one person to another. Such an order may be issued through the formal reporting process (i.e. Student Affairs or Human Resources) or under the direction of a Title IX Coordinator. This may apply to communications in-person, online, and other forms of contact, both on- and off-campus. It is important to note that this is different than a civil order, which is issued by a court. A campus no-contact order may be issued as a sanction or outcome, and may also be issued on an interim basis while an incident is under investigation or adjudication. It is important to note that the burden of proof for a campus no-contact order is often less than that required for a court issued order, and the consequences for violating it are also limited to action that can be taken by the College, such as an additional student conduct charge of failure to comply with a College official.

REPORTING OPTIONS
This section provides written notice of the resolution process, including rights and options available to victims/survivors/persons affected by sexual misconduct. Individuals may choose to seek action or assistance both on-campus as well as through the surrounding community. If you would like to see action occur because of a person’s behavior, you may wish to report the misconduct at some level. Additional or interim remedies may also be provided concurrently and/or in lieu of an investigation or formal process. The following situations are examples of reasons why you might choose to report an incident of misconduct:

- To seek formal action against someone, such as removing them from a class or the campus
- To educate the person about their behavior
- To confront the individual and make your voice heard about how you feel about what happened
- To make the College aware of the behavior in case it is part of a larger pattern
- To receive assistance in changing classes or other on-campus arrangements
- To receive support in coping with a situation

There are two types of reporting available to you at the College:

1. Confidential Reporting in which your identity is kept confidential (with few exceptions) by a designated official on the ICO Confidential Message Line 312-949-7225, the ICO Title IX line at 312-949-7444 or by the Chicago Rape Crisis Hotline at 888-293-2080

2. Formal Reporting in which you wish to file a formal report with Campus Security, Human Resources, and/or Student Affairs and pursue the College’s investigation and resolution process (this means your identity will be known to the accused individual)

Confidential Reporting
If you wish that your identity and the details of an incident be kept confidential, there are some resources available to you: our Senior Director for Student Development or off-campus rape crisis resources can maintain this level of confidentiality.

You may wish to consider this option if you:

- Would like to know about support and assistance, but are not sure if you want to pursue formal action against the individual, or
- Have questions or would like to process what happened with someone without involving police or those responsible for campus disciplinary procedures
- Do not want the person(s) who harmed you to know that you are seeking help or support

The following campus resources are considered confidential, which means that they can assist you without disclosing your personal identity to others at the College. The only exceptions to this are 1) concern for imminent danger or 2) sexual abuse of a minor. As we want to address campus concerns of sexual violence or harassment, these campus offices may still report to the Title IX Coordinator(s) if they perceive that there are patterns of harassment or violence occurring in certain locations or groups within the campus. In those cases, your personal identity will not be shared. The confidential resources on campus are:

- Senior Director for Student Development: 312-949-7415

You can also report to Chicago Rape Crisis Hotline at 888-293-2080 to obtain support off-campus. Chicago Rape Crisis will not share your identity with ICO, but has the same obligation as the resource above to report if there is a concern for imminent danger.
If you are the victim of a crime and do not want to pursue action within the College system or the criminal justice system, you may still want to consider making a confidential report. With your permission, ICO Campus Security Department can file a report on the details of the incident without revealing your identity. The purpose of a confidential report is to comply with your wish to keep the matter confidential, while taking steps to ensure the future safety of yourself and others. With such information, the College can keep accurate records of the number of incidents involving students, determine where there is a pattern of crime with regard to a particular location, method, or assailant, and alert the campus community to potential danger. Reports filed in this manner are counted and disclosed in the annual crime statistics for the College.

What about anonymous reporting?

If you would like to report an incident but remain anonymous, you can do so using the College’s Title IX hotline number 312-949-7444 or our Compliance hotline at 312-949-7225. You can report anonymously by not leaving your name and contact information. The College will still investigate the situation to the best of its ability without your involvement beyond filing the initial reporting form.

Formal Reporting

As ICO wishes to investigate and address gender-based and sexual misconduct, you are encouraged to make formal reports of incidents so that they may be investigated and addressed. This is considered official notice to the institution. By reporting formally, you have the right to expect to have your report be taken seriously by the institution and to have a fair, prompt, and impartial investigation and resolution occur. During this time, only people who need to know will be told and information will be shared only as necessary with investigators, witnesses, the accused individual(s) and advisor(s), the Title IX Coordinator, or other such persons involved in the processes. All proceedings will be conducted by College officials who receive annual training on sexual/gender-based misconduct, including how to conduct investigations and resolutions that protect the safety of victims and promote accountability. Please be aware that if you file a formal report, your name and the relevant reported information may be known to the individual.

You may file your formal report with our Title IX Coordinator, or one of our “responsible employees” who are required to share with the Title IX Coordinator all information regarding sexual misconduct for which they are aware, including the identities of the parties if known. At ICO, “responsible employees” include:

- The Title IX Team
- Faculty Club advisors
- RA’s
- ICO Campus Security Officers (and their work study students)

You may wish to consider this option if you:

- Would like action taken by the ICO, such as the individual facing campus conduct or employment action if he/she is found responsible for violating ICO policy
- Would like ICO to be aware of the situation in case it happens again

In addition, if you believe you have been a victim of a crime, you have the option to report to law enforcement – both on-campus and to local law enforcement within your community; to be assisted by ICO Campus Security in notifying local law enforcement; or to decline to report the incident to law enforcement.

To file a formal complaint, complete the online incident report. Write as much information as you know and feel comfortable writing. This report is submitted directly to the College’s Title IX Coordinator. You will then be contacted for a follow up.
interview – this usually occurs within the next College business day. You can bring a person to support you to that interview as well as any other part of the investigation and resolution process.

Reporting Considerations

- Victim alcohol or drug use. ICO seeks to remove any barriers to reporting sexual misconduct. ICO will offer limited immunity to the individual reporting to protect them from being charged with policy violations related to the personal ingestion of alcohol or other drugs. ICO may recommend education or therapeutic remedies for those individuals.

- False reporting. A reporting party who makes a report that is later found to be intentionally false or made maliciously without regard for the truth will be subject to disciplinary action. This does not apply to reports made in good faith, even if the fact alleged in the report is not later substantiated in the investigation.

- Third Party Reporting. Any individual may make a report of sexual misconduct. The report may be made without disclosing the identities of the involved parties. However, ICO’s ability to respond to a third party report may be limited by the amount of information provided.

RESOLUTION PROCESS

Resolution of Complaints

ICO takes all reports seriously, and conducts investigations and resolution procedures that are designed to be private and to respect the rights of all involved parties. Both the complainant and the accused/respondent will have equitable opportunities during the investigation and resolution process, including:

- Opportunity to be accompanied by an advisor of your choosing during any meeting or proceeding related to the resolution process (including investigation meetings)
- Opportunity to review and respond to the relevant information in the case
- Be informed in writing of the relevant outcomes of the proceeding, including any appeal procedures
- Be notified if there has been an appeal and to offer any additional information for consideration through the appellate process
- Be informed of any changes to the outcome(s) as a result of an appeal, and when the outcomes are considered final (i.e. no further opportunity for appeal)

Because of the serious and sensitive nature of these incidents, all investigations and resolution procedures will be conducted by persons who have training on the issues related to dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and sexual assault. These individuals also recognize how to conduct an investigation and resolution process that protects the safety of victims/survivors/persons who have been harmed and promote accountability. The procedures are also designed to provide a fundamentally fair process that treats all parties with respect.

INVESTIGATION PROCESS

Once a formal complaint is filed or when ICO has official notice of an incident, a campus investigation will begin. If a law enforcement investigation is also occurring, the campus investigation may temporarily be placed on hold if it could jeopardize the criminal investigation process. The campus investigation and resolution process will not wait for the outcome of a criminal proceeding since the campus policy, possible outcomes, and standard of proof are different than the criminal and legal standards. If the incident also appears to be a violation of the law, you may request that the police and ICO take a formal report together to promote a more efficient process for you; however, please be aware that the standards and outcomes of a campus disciplinary process and the criminal process are different and this may not always be possible.

Investigations are typically conducted by the ICO Title IX Investigators and are referred to the Behavior Intervention Team for action. The Title IX Coordinator(s) are kept informed throughout the investigation to ensure appropriate oversight.
If the College has notice about alleged misconduct that may threaten the health or safety of the campus or any members of its community, ICO reserves the right and has the obligation to initiate a complaint and/or investigation. During any investigation or disciplinary process, appropriate interim remedies may also occur such as campus no-contact orders, adjusting class schedules, or limiting/prohibiting access to campus. Investigations are maintained as private and information is only revealed if necessary to ensure adequate investigation occurs. Both the complainant and the accused (respondent) have equitable opportunities to have a support person present at all investigation and resolution meetings. At the conclusion of the investigation, the investigator will provide an investigation summary which will include a finding as to whether or not the alleged misconduct occurred. Investigations are generally completed within 60 days, but the timeframe depends on the circumstances of the case. When evaluating whether misconduct occurred, the standard of evidence used will be a “preponderance of the evidence” or “more likely than not.”

Investigations can also occur at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator, such as when there are anonymous referrals, unknown perpetrators, or concerns for climate or cultural issues that may foster a harassing environment.

Process When the Accused is the Student

In situations where gender-based or sexual misconduct by one or more students is alleged, the investigation is usually conducted by the ICO Title IX Investigators. Essentially, the complainant and the respondent (as well as any witnesses) are interviewed separately. An investigation summary is completed, which includes all relevant information from the investigation. This report is given to the Behavior Intervention Team for adjudication along with a finding of responsibility based on the information. The complainant and respondent can each (separately) view the summary and provide written response to it. The summary and any responses are forwarded to a Behavior Intervention team to review and issue a final decision about both finding of responsibility and any sanctions. These decisions may be appealed by the respondent or complaint. Appeals are generally heard by the VP for Student Alumni and College Development, or a designee. Any questions about this process can be directed to the College’s Student Affairs Office.

Process When the Accused is an Employee

In cases where gender-based or sexual misconduct by one or more employees (including adjunct faculty and contracted employees) is alleged, the investigation is usually conducted by the ICO Title IX investigators. Essentially, the complainant and the respondent (as well as any witnesses) are interviewed separately. An investigation summary is completed, which includes all relevant information from the investigation. This report is given to the Behavior Intervention Team for adjudication along with a finding of responsibility based on the information. The complainant and respondent can each (separately) view the summary and provide written response to it. The summary and any responses are forwarded to a Behavior Intervention team to review and issue a final decision about both finding of responsibility and any sanctions. These decisions may be appealed by the respondent or complaint. Appeals are generally heard by the VP for Administration, or a designee. Any questions about this process can be directed to the College’s Human Resources Office. Once the investigation is completed, the investigation report is provided to the VP for Administration who notifies the complainant and the respondent of the findings of the investigation. Disciplinary procedures for employees are subject to the terms in the respective employee manual.

Addressing Behavior of Third Parties

When the accused party is not an ICO student or employee, ICO will do its best to maintain a harassment-free environment. This can include things like banning someone from the campus, providing additional monitoring and education, or reporting the incident to another school or community law enforcement agency that has jurisdiction over the individual’s behavior.

OUTCOMES: SANCTIONS, CONSEQUENCES, AND REMEDIES

Students found responsible for violating the sexual and gender-based misconduct policy may face sanctions up to and including expulsion and a ban from accessing the campus. Other sanctions include: warning, disciplinary probation, suspension, and educational activities.
Employees found responsible for violating the sexual and gender-based misconduct policy are subject to discipline, up to and including termination. Other consequences for employees include verbal warning, written warning, and suspension without pay. While ICO generally utilizes a progressive discipline system for employees, suspension, dismissal, or termination of employment may result as the first step for more serious offenses, as determined by the VP for Administration.

In addition to consequences for individuals, there may be additional outcomes for student organizations, areas of campus, and offices/departments where concerns or patterns have been identified. These outcomes can include additional education, monitoring, or proposed policy or procedural changes.

Retaliation

Retaliation as a result of this policy or its procedures is not tolerated. Any individual who retaliates against a student or employee for filing a complaint or participating in an investigation or disciplinary process shall also be subject to disciplinary action. Individuals reporting in good faith are granted amnesty in the event that reporting the incident might expose their own violation of College policy by coming forward to report.

Records: Privacy of Information

Records will be maintained in accordance with employee and student conduct recordkeeping practices, which are designed to maintain the privacy of information. Public information (such as annual crime statistics or alerts) will not contain any identifying information about a victim. Throughout the process, information will only be shared with those that have a legitimate “need to know” the information, as directed by the Title IX Coordinator. The institution will protect your privacy to the extent that we can, so long as that does not impair our ability to provide interim measures/accommodations, investigate your formal complaint, or maintain safety of the campus community.

Training for Employees

The individuals involved in the investigation and resolution procedures all receive annual training to ensure that the process protects the safety of victims and promotes accountability for individuals who violate College policies. To that end, the Title IX Coordinator, the VP for Compliance and the VP for Administration, the Behavior Intervention team and any other persons designated to investigate or adjudicate cases all receive training on the following:

- Training or experience in handling sexual violence complaints
- Training or experience in the operation of the school’s grievance procedures
- Information on working with and interviewing persons subjected to sexual violence
- Information on particular types of conduct that would constitute sexual violence, including: same-sex sexual violence
- Information on consent and the possible role of drugs or alcohol in the ability to consent
- The importance of accountability for persons found to have committed sexual violence
- The need for remedial actions for the perpetrator, complainant, and school community
- The effects of trauma, including neurobiological change
- Cultural awareness training regarding how sexual violence may affect students differently depending on their cultural backgrounds
- How both trauma and defense mechanisms can play out in a hearing
- Dispelling common misperceptions about sexual assault in society (e.g., “rape myths”)
EDUCATION AND RESOURCES

It is the responsibility of all of us to educate ourselves about sexual assault and to stop it from happening in our homes, on our campus, in our community, and in our society. This section of the website includes prevention and education opportunities for students, faculty, and staff who want to end sexual violence in our communities.

The responsibility of preventing crimes of sexual violence lies with the person initiating sexual behavior, as that is the person who has the power to stop what he or she is doing. With this in mind, these are things to consider when initiating sexual activities:

- Sexual assault, rape, domestic violence, and dating violence are crimes and violations of ICO policy. As such, being found responsible for such a violation can result in a maximum sanction of expulsion from ICO (for students) and termination of employment (for employees). Additionally, criminal charges could be brought forward as well as civil litigation within the court system.
- Because crimes of sexual violence are crimes of power and control, the most important thing to consider when engaging in sexual behavior is the CONSENT of the other person involved. Only a person’s consent gives one the right to engage in sexual contact with the other person.

RISK REDUCTION STRATEGIES

Although the responsibility of prevention truly lies with the offender, there are things that all individuals can be aware of, and do, that may help reduce their risk of being a victim of a crime. These are not guarantees of safety, nor does failure to do one of these things mean that someone is at fault for being sexually assaulted, stalked, or otherwise victimized:

- You have the right to your own values, attitudes and beliefs about sexual behavior and relationships in general. Therefore you have the right to determine the type of interactions and activities you feel comfortable with and to end those activities at any time.
- While there is no perfect profile of someone who will be sexually violent, there are some common warning signs. These include:
  - Domineering, overly controlling actions
  - A tendency to disregard your feelings and desires
  - The expression of hostility or dominance toward potential partners
  - The belief that certain actions entitle one to sex with another person
  - Intrusion into your personal physical space
  - Touching you in a way that makes you feel uncomfortable

- No one is ever entitled to sex. You are not obligated to perform sexual acts as payment, as a favor, or in order to be a “real man” or a “good woman.”
• Alcohol is a frequently used and highly effective rape facilitating drug. It affects each person’s ability to make decisions, set boundaries, and engage in sexual activities differently. Keep track of how much you drink, and consider some of these tips in relation to alcohol consumption:
  • You have the right not to drink alcohol at any time.
  • If you feel pressure to drink, you can keep a beer can in your hand without drinking from it frequently.
  • Alternate water with each alcoholic beverage and eat prior to and while drinking.
  • You have the right to say no to any sexual activity at any time for any reason. When you feel that your personal rights are being threatened, you have every right to take a stand and let the offending party know that what he/she is doing is unwelcome. This includes if you have started activities and you no longer wish to pursue them.
  • If you go to larger parties, bring friends with you and check in regularly. Make plans ahead of time for how to get home, and who will remain sober throughout the night in case any emergency arises.
  • Having your own transportation gives you a degree of power to leave a situation, if you see the need to.
  • While using social media, such as Facebook or Twitter, be mindful of the type of information you provide, including your address or phone number, and whether you are at home or away. Review and update your privacy settings regularly.
  • If you wish to pursue sexual activity with someone, consider discussing your boundaries prior to engaging in physical activity together so you have a clearer understanding of each other’s preferences. If you decide to engage in sexual activity shortly after meeting someone, you may not have as great of an understanding of each other yet, which means you both may need to seek further clarification as you communicate.

BYSTANDER INTERVENTION

Every person has a role in stopping sexual violence from occurring on our campus and in society. If you observe a concerning situation, you may have the ability to intervene in a safe and positive way to change the outcome of a situation. A key goal of bystander intervention is to step in early – before the situation escalates to violence. These are the basic steps of bystander intervention in the form of taking action:

Notice what is happening.

The first step in bystander intervention is being attentive to what is happening around you. This is especially important in high-risk situations, such as large parties, where alcohol is present, at concerts/bars with loud noise or in other environments that might otherwise perpetuate high-risk behaviors. If you are in a larger group or with friends, it is often easy to assume that if no one else thinks there is a problem, then maybe there isn’t. Instead, be willing to be the one to pay attention and to think for yourself as to whether or not an intervention can be helpful.

Consider whether the situation warrants your action.

Even situations that don’t seem serious may benefit from your action. The goal is to intervene well before there is a problem, not once a violent act has started. For example, if you notice a friend who is drinking a lot of alcohol, raising his voice, and saying he wants to “get laid, no matter what”, this could be an indication of high risk behaviors. If you hear someone yell or you see someone who is intoxicated and being hit on by someone else, you might be able to step in.

Decide if you have a responsibility to act.

You might have formal responsibility to act (such as if you are a team captain or if you are a student leader), or you might have informal responsibility to act (such as if others look to you as a role model, or if you are often the leading voice in your friend group). As an individual and member of our campus community, you also have a responsibility to act with integrity and to look out for fellow people, regardless of how good of friends you are.
Choose what form of action/assistance to use.

Forms of assistance can vary depending on the situation. Examples include:

- Stepping in directly and engaging both parties
- Separating the individuals
- Calling an authority
- Getting help from other friends
- Diverting someone from the situation
- Creating a distraction
- Changing the subject

Implement the intervention safely.

Ultimately you have to intervene in a safe way so that further threats do not occur, and so that any safety concerns are minimized. You might have an initial intervention followed by a follow-up conversation later after any feelings have calmed down. This is also why it is important to step in through conversations early, rather than having to look to more intrusive action if a situation escalates.

TRANSGENDER INFORMATION

Transgender is a term used to describe individuals whose gender identity differs from the sex the doctor marked on their birth certificate. Gender identity is a person's internal, personal sense of being a man or a woman, or of being someone whose gender exists outside of one of those two ideas. For transgender people, the sex they were assigned at birth doesn't match their internal gender identity. Transgender includes a range of identities, including: transgender, transsexual, and genderqueer. Trying to change a person's gender identity doesn't work, just like trying to change a person's sexual orientation doesn't work. This means transgender people may seek to bring their bodies more into alignment with their gender identity, and/or may define themselves outside of the two boxes that society has constructed for male and female. The best thing to do is ask a person how they identify and to utilize those words.

ICO offers toilet rooms that are not gender-specific in the following locations:

- 1st and 2nd Floor of Brady Hall
- 2nd Floor Library- Academic Administration Area

New information will be added to this site to assist transgender students in learning about on campus resources, and to assist faculty/staff in learning about the needs of our transgender students. In the meantime, please review these external resources:

INFORMATION FOR FACULTY

Title IX is part of the Higher Education Act of 1965 which is a federal mandate with implications for all College employees, including full time faculty and adjunct faculty. Failure to comply with Title IX can result in violations of students' and employees' civil rights, a loss of students' financial aid money, and lawsuits and federal investigations. Faculty members at ICO have a unique role because they are often the only trusted adults with whom students may interact on a frequent basis, making them likely to learn about incidents of sexual misconduct and discrimination. At the same time, ICO students are likely to see faculty as responsible adults who have the authority to assist them or address concerns.

What are my responsibilities as a member of the ICO Community?

First, you must be familiar with ICO’s policy on sex discrimination. If you interact with a student or employee who has experienced discrimination or harassment, you should respond in a caring manner. You also are required to report incidents of sexual harassment that you observe, or that are reported to you by students or others, to the Title IX Coordinator(s). This applies whether the incidents happen on or off-campus, and whether they involve students, employees, visitors to campus, or others. Finally, you can help ICO reduce the risk of discrimination by utilizing resources and promoting education about this important issue.

Given the nature of our campus, faculty can help ensure that ICO meets its legal mandates to educate all students about the campus policy, what constitutes consent, how to report incidents, and how to reduce the risk of sexual violence. Please be assured that you are not expected to be an expert on the policy, nor are you expected to provide counseling to help a student who has been traumatized. But, you should know how to contact the Title IX Coordinator(s), and you should comply with directions from them when needed to provide interim or permanent remedies under Title IX.

Following these five principles will enable you to do your part to help ICO be compliant with Title IX and other relevant state and federal laws, such as the Violence Against Women Act, the Clery Act, and the Illinois Preventing Sexual Violence in Higher Education Act.
REPORTING CRIMES

HOW TO REPORT A CRIME OR EMERGENCY
In case of immediate risk of injury, such as a life threatening medical emergency, dial 911 and the Security Office will be automatically notified. Campus Security officers are on duty 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The Campus Security Office is capable of providing immediate assistance to anyone who feels they have witnessed, have information relating to, or been a victim of a crime or other campus related emergency.

In all cases, especially sexually related offenses, it is vital that you report the incident as soon as possible. It is important to preserve any physical evidence for the proof of criminal activity. Contact with local law enforcement, medical personnel (if necessary), and prosecutors will be encouraged.

If you are not sure whether a crime or sexually related offense has occurred, you may discuss the incident with the Title IX Coordinator and/or the Dean of Student Affairs or his designate to determine if an offense or crime has occurred prior to deciding whether to report the activity to Campus Security or local law enforcement. The Title IX Coordinator is the Senior Director of Student Development and is responsible for enforcement of ICO’s anti-harassment efforts and response.

All incidents reported to the Campus Security Office will be fully documented on a Campus Incident Report. The Uniform Crime Reporting Handbook will be utilized to determine whether a documentable crime has taken place. If you report a crime to Campus Security you may, of course, request anonymity to the extent practicable and permitted by law. You have the option of reporting the incident to Campus Security or the Student Affairs Office who will assist you in notifying local law enforcement authorities if you request the assistance of these personnel.

The ICO Security Office maintains liaison with the Chicago Police Department and informs local districts of reported criminal activity. Although you may prefer to report incidents directly to local law enforcement agencies, and are encouraged to do so, you are also encouraged to file reports with Campus Security.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORTING
ICO encourages anyone who believes he/she has been the victim of or witness to a crime to promptly report the incident to Campus Security. If you report a crime to Campus Security, you may request anonymity to the extent practicable and permissible by law. Confidential reports can be made to the Sr. Director for Student Development; our Title IX hotline or the Chicago Rape Crisis hotline. You can find more information in our Campus Conduct Policy.

EMERGENCY NOTIFICATIONS AND TIMELY WARNINGS
The Illinois College of Optometry utilizes mass notification technology which is able to send out a message via email, text and/or multiple phone contacts to all students, faculty and staff of the College upon confirmation of a significant emergency or dangerous situation occurring on the campus and in surrounding geographic area that involves an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees. Some examples of significant emergencies or dangerous situations are:

- criminal activity in the neighborhood
- fire in one of ICO buildings;
- outbreak of meningitis, or other serious illness;
- approaching tornado or other extreme weather conditions;
- earthquake;
- gas leak;
- terrorist incident;
- armed intruder;
- bomb threat;
- civil unrest or rioting;
- explosion; and nearby chemical hazardous waste spill;

Examples of situations that would not necessitate an emergency notification under the Clery Act:

- power outage;
- snow closure; and string of larcenies.
Additionally the College’s campus phone system can be activated to immediately broadcast audible and visual text messages to all phones throughout the campus. ICO maintains pre-written emergency notification messages for multiple possible scenarios. These processes are initiated with a single phone call to the Vice President for Administration, the Senior Director of Compliance and Quality Improvement and/or the Security Department. Additionally these processes can be initiated by using a mobile device App. ICO will, without delay, and taking into account the safety of the community, determine the content of the notification and initiate the notification system, unless issuing a notification will, in the professional judgement of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist a victim or to contain, respond to or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

Either the Vice President for Administration, the Senior Director of Compliance and Quality Improvement or the Security Department are notified of an event requiring the use of mass notification technology. Anyone can contact the Campus Security office to notify of a possible emergent situation. Campus Security will verify the situation and respond accordingly which may include contacting the Vice President for Administration or the Senior Director of Compliance and Quality Improvement to trigger the mass notification system. Additionally, Campus Security will notify the Chicago Police and/or Fire Department in an attempt to enlist professional emergency service assistance and also alert our neighboring schools (IIT & Vandercook) and other members of the greater community.

The emergency notification system is tested twice annually. Each test includes a sent message and a tracking mechanism to identify who may have been missed and how long messages take to be delivered. We work with our vendor to enhance the service when issues are identified.

Titles of individuals involved in emergency preparedness and response:
- Vice President for Administration
- Director of Campus Security
- Director of Facilities
- Senior Director of Compliance and Quality Improvement

EMERGENCY RESPONSE AND EVACUATION
ICO practices emergency response and evacuation.

MISSING STUDENT POLICY
Campus Security should be notified immediately if a student residing in the RC is perceived to be missing. If Campus Security officials determine that a student, for whom a missing person report has been filed and has been missing for more than 24 hours will, within the next 24 hours validate the report and initiate any necessary contacts. If Campus Security confirms that the student is validly considered “missing” (has been reported absent for 24 hours or more without any known reason), Campus Security will file a report with the Chicago Police Department. In addition, Campus Security and Student Affairs will notify the “missing student” emergency contact identified by the student.

Each student living in the on-campus student housing facility (the RC) has the option to register a confidential contact person to be notified in the case that the student is determined to be missing. Only authorized campus officials and law enforcement officers in furtherance of a missing person investigation can access this information.

If a non-RC resident student is reported missing, the College will follow the same protocol and will attempt to validate the report, notifying local law enforcement when Campus Security is able to validate the missing student report.

Campus Security and Student Affairs will work together in the event of any missing student report.

SEX OFFENDER REGISTRY
Information provided by the State concerning registered sex offenders may be obtained via the Illinois State Police website:
www.isp.state.il.us
DISTRIBUTION OF INFORMATION

Policies of the Illinois College of Optometry are published in the Student Guide and various other manuals. The Student Guide is revised annually and is available electronically on my.ico.edu. Policy and Procedures Manual for the Employees of ICO and IEI is also available electronically at my.ico.edu under Human Resources tab.

The Campus Security and Fire Safety Report is issued electronically annually (by October 1st) via the College’s online portal (my.ico.edu/student affairs) to all current and prospective employees (via the Vice President for Administration) and students (via the Dean of Student Affairs). It is provided upon request to all potential employees and students. Electronic copies are also available in the Consumer Information section of our College website, http://www.ico.edu/consumer-information/. Printed copies can be requested from the Office of Student Affairs and the Campus Security Office.

It is College policy to make timely reports to the campus community regarding occurrences of crime on campus. This information, when necessary, is published in the student newsletter, The ICO Insider, which is available to all members of the campus community.

A daily summary of criminal activity is prepared by the Campus Security Office and submitted to the Dean of Student Affairs and Vice President for Administration monthly. This information is available to the campus community upon request. Criminal activity should be reported immediately to the Chief of Campus Security.

EDUCATION AND SUPPORT

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Programs and information are offered by the Student Affairs Office. These programs described below are available to students and College employees and emphasize campus security procedures, crime awareness, crime prevention, self-defense, dealing with sex offenses and alcohol and drug abuse. These programs are conducted at the start of the academic year primarily during New Student Orientation. All students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to attend. Special sessions are held for Residential Complex residents emphasizing crime awareness, prevention, and fire safety in the dormitory setting.

Crime awareness and prevention programs: Routine College security procedures are reviewed. The need for a secured campus with limited access and proper identification of all individuals on campus is stressed. Members of the campus community are informed of their responsibilities for their own safety and for the safety of others. Our goal is to educate and motivate everyone to take an active part in protecting themselves and report any suspicious activity to Campus Security. The sessions emphasize practical things which can be done to provide protection from and prevent crimes such as burglary, theft, assaults, purse snatching, automobile crimes, and sex offenses. Attention is given to alternatives available if one is confronted by an assailant and what action, if any, should be taken.

Alcohol and drug abuse prevention programs: In accordance with the Drug Free Schools and Campus Act of 1989, the College is dedicated to the prevention of illegal possession, use, and sale of alcoholic beverages and drugs by the campus community. The campus is committed to the vigorous enforcement of State and Federal drug laws and state underage drinking laws. These programs deal with elevating awareness of alcohol and drug abuse. Students are encouraged to contact the Senior Director of Student Development for individual counseling with any concerns for themselves or their peers regarding alcohol or drug related problems. If necessary, the student will be assisted in locating professional counseling services.

Programs on sexual offenses: These programs include information about sexual harassment, acquaintance rape, and other forcible and non-forcible sex offenses. Definitions and awareness of each of the above in addition to preventative measures are covered. Procedures students should follow if a sex offense occurs or is suspected, including who should be contacted, and when the incident should be reported as well as the importance of preserving evidence for the proof of a criminal offense. Additional resources available in the community such as rape crisis intervention centers, social service personnel, and local law enforcement are covered.

Literature, videotapes, and other educational materials on all of the above topics, as well as personal and confidential counseling are always available from the Senior Director of Student Development and the College Library.
COUNSELING
Any student wishing to obtain counseling related to being victimized by criminal activity or a sexually related offense is advised to meet with the Senior Director of Student Development. The College will make every effort to provide immediate counseling to you, as well as, assist you in locating professional counseling assistance (if desired) and other appropriate services. In cases of extreme emotional distress, it may be desirable for you to take a Leave of Absence from professional studies as provided in the Student Guide.

In the event of an alleged sex offense, the College will make every reasonable effort to change a victim's academic schedule and living situation, if those changes are requested by the victim. Examples might include, but are not necessarily limited to, release from a College housing contract or re-assignment to a different laboratory section or clinical area. Resources are available to assist you in your search for off-campus living.

DISCIPLINARY RESPONSE

DETERMINING POLICY VIOLATIONS AND POTENTIAL DISCIPLINARY RESPONSE
All reports of sexual and relationship violence will be addressed in a prompt, fair and impartial manner through the existing applicable College policies and processes, namely the Campus Conduct Policy. This will include making determinations as to whether this policy has been violated, and, if so, potentially imposing discipline.

If the report indicates that a staff member or student employee may have violated this policy, a violation of this policy will most often also be a violation of the Anti-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy, and a determination as to a violation will be made through those procedures.

SANCTIONS
The Behavior Intervention Team (BIT) reviews alleged cases of student and employee misconduct and prescribes sanctions and discipline in accordance with the Campus Conduct Policy. Any student or employee accused of violating the Campus Conduct Policy, on or off campus, is subject to referral to the Behavior Intervention Team.

In cases where a student is accused of committing an alleged sex offense (rape, acquaintance rape or other forcible or non-forcible sex offense) both the accuser and the accused are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during the BIT Hearing proceedings. Both the accuser and the accused shall be informed of the outcome of the BIT. Only the final determination and any sanction imposed against the accused will be provided to the accuser.

An employee accused of committing misconduct as referenced herein is governed by the Campus Conduct Policy and the Policies and Procedures Manual for the Employees of Illinois College of Optometry and Illinois Eye Institute. Disciplinary action for employees follows policies contained in this publication.

Following a final determination of misconduct, if any, the College may impose sanctions up to and including dismissal or termination of employment.

FIRE SAFETY REPORT

REPORTING ON FIRES
All fires must be reported to Campus Security. Calls to 911 immediately alert ICO Security. Reporting any instances of fire allows the Security Office to appropriately respond and report the event in our annual compliance report.

Smoke and fire alarms have been installed throughout the campus. When an alarm is activated, the source is relayed electronically to the Chicago Fire Department and to the Campus Security Office. Occupants should evacuate to the nearest exit as indicated by the emergency exit route maps which are posted throughout the campus. Return to the building is permitted only after an “All Clear” is given by the Fire department and communicated by Campus Security or Facilities personnel.

FIRE LOG
The Campus Security Office maintains a log of any reported fires in the Residential Complex.

RESIDENTIAL COMPLEX
All residents of the residential complex (RC) receive written information and a video presentation regarding fire safety and evacuation procedures. Fire drills are conducted annually.

RESIDENTIAL COMPLEX FIRE ALARM SYSTEM
The RC is serviced by an alarm system which incorporates the following: Once an alarm is activated ADT Security notifies the Chicago Fire Department and fire safety equipment is dispatched. The alarm simultaneously notifies Campus Security. Campus security procedures call for security personnel to immediately respond to the RC and assist if a bona-fide situation exists. Upon hearing an alarm, residents will evacuate immediately to the Lecture Center. Exits will be made via the North and South doors, as indicated by the Emergency Exit Route maps which are located throughout the complex. Campus Security personnel will be stationed at the entrance of the RC to admit the Fire Department. The main control panel is located in the lobby.

The Residential Complex is equipped with a fire sprinkler system, as well as an independent fire pump which can be utilized by the fire Department as an alternate water source. All four floors also has 4 hand held fire extinguishers. Each room has the sprinkler, fire alarm speaker/horn/light, and fire detector.

Fire drills are planned by the head RA and Security each year. All students are directed out of the RC to ICO lecture hall where security then has students watch a 15 minute educational video on fire safety. Drills have been performed during the following terms: Winter 2015, Fall 2016, & Fall 2017.

The following are prohibited within the RC:
• High amperage electrical appliances, such as hot plates, conventional ovens, or other food preparation appliances
• Full-sized refrigerators
• Halogen lamps with exposed bulbs
• Candles or open flames of any kind
• Any food preparation appliances that poses a fire hazard

Inspection of all Complex quarters by Resident Assistances and other College staff will be conducted to assure conformity with College and municipal fire regulations and all other safety regulations. Failure to comply with such regulations is a breach of contract and will be grounds for eviction. Additional safety information is available in the RC Student Manual and Housing Contract.

If anyone has information on a fire incident, after the fact, contact Security at 312-949-7633 with the information.

Currently, no fire safety improvements are scheduled for the RC.
